Hiring Manager

KPMG US

Dear Hiring Manager,

My name is Ajay Venkatesh. I'm finishing my M.S. in Computer Engineering at NYU, with production software experience at PwC in Bengaluru, a summer SDE internship at Amazon, and ongoing on-campus work at NYU's Novel AI Technologies. I'm writing about the Associate, Tax GMS Business Analyst role at KPMG.

My career-launching three years were at PwC in Bengaluru, where I worked across the consulting-style delivery model the JD describes: eliciting business requirements, documenting them, coordinating across stakeholders, and delivering structured business analysis work to clients. I owned a distributed backend on Microsoft Azure integrating with Microsoft CRM over SQL Server, partnered with architects and business stakeholders, and built Power BI dashboards over datasets joined across multiple relational databases for non-technical audiences.

On business analysis fundamentals: at PwC I translated ambiguous business questions from architects and product managers into concrete technical deliverables, documented requirements, and led code reviews to ensure delivery quality. The same posture, careful elicitation, documentation, and stakeholder communication, is the consulting craft KPMG's Global Mobility Services practice runs on.

On data work for analysis: at NYU I engineered ETL pipelines transforming NoSQL into PostgreSQL with concurrency control, then powered AWS QuickSight dashboards. My Big Data graduate project built a PySpark / HDFS pipeline over millions of flight records with rigorous EDA, the kind of analytical foundation tax engagements increasingly depend on as data work moves into the practice.

Stack-wise: SQL, Python, Power BI, Tableau, plus consulting-style stakeholder coordination, requirements documentation, and structured project communication. Comfortable in cross-cultural delivery teams from PwC's global model.

What pulls me toward KPMG GMS is the collaborative consulting culture and the chance to keep building on the consulting craft I started at PwC, applying business analysis to the genuinely complex tax-mobility problems that span jurisdictions, regulations, and client operations.

I'd welcome the chance to discuss further. Thanks for considering my application.

Sincerely,

Ajay Venkatesh
